About EMPRETEC Trainers

Roberto Gandara
International Master Trainer

He has been working for the past 20 years as a consultant in the field of business management, organizational development and strategic planning.

Besides that, he also works as speaker and training specialist, developing different training methodologies for business, teams and leaders. His clients are private companies of various sizes and sectors, as well as government, institutions and organizations like Sebrae (Brazilian support organization for SMEs).

He is also an international consultant, speaker and trainer for the UN system (UNCTAD and ILO) in entrepreneurship and social and economic development projects. He accumulates over 20,000 hours of consulting, workshops, lectures and training delivered in 20 countries from Europe, Middle East, Asia, Africa and South America, besides Brazil.

He is a certified UNCTAD-EMPRETEC International Master Trainer since 2005, and has helped the installation of entrepreneurship programs (EMPRETEC) and trained local and international trainers from over 20 countries.

Renato Santos
International Master Trainer

A speaker and consultant with wide international exposure, he has worked for more than 23 years with SABRAE (the Brazilian SME support service) in developing solutions for Brazilian-based entrepreneurship trainings. As a Master Trainer for EMPRETEC, Renato has worked in 18 countries in America, Europe, Africa, Asia and Middle East and engaged with thousands of SMEs to help their businesses grow.

In 2011, Renato took a role at the TV reality show "The Apprentice Brazil" and in 2013-2014, he was an advisor to the anchor Roberto Justus during the ninth and tenth seasons of "The Apprentice Brazil". In Sao Paulo, where he currently lives, Renato is an investor and advisor to companies in different spheres and stages, following a period as shareholder (and former Executive Director) of a medicine and health industry group.
